Education Award 2006

Elouise Constantine studying at Edith Cowan University (Churchlands campus), is the recipient of the Zonta Club's Education Award for 2006.

Elouise was presented with a cheque for $2,000 at the May monthly dinner meeting, pictured below with Roslyn Budd, Chair of the selection panel. In her acceptance speech, Elouise explained that she will use the money to help complete her final year of nursing.

The selection panel for the Award was very impressed with Elouise's attitude and passion for nursing spurred on by her own survival from breast cancer and her commitment to working in cancer research and care. She demonstrated very high leadership and interpersonal skills positively impacting the wider community.

Elouise faced strong competition from 20 other applicants studying at University. We look forward to following the achievements of Elouise and wish her every success in her nursing career!

Donation helps Bandyup take stock

BANDYUP Women's Prison has been donated a portable bar-code scanner in thanks for its production of breast cushions for the Zonta International Clubs of WA.

Zonta has also donated the Retail Max Stocktaking Software that, combined with the scanner, will allow prisoners studying Certificate 2 in Retail Operations to take stock of the canteen's stores in a third of the time it currently takes to do it manually. cont next page.....

Bandyup's textiles industry has been making the silk covered and embroidered cushions for years. Zonta approached the prison with a desire to donate something back to staff and prisoners in recognition of all the work they were doing for women with breast cancer.
